

Adopt a Cow in your...

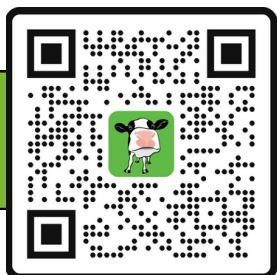

CAFETERIA

Make the program your own!

- Place stickers on the bottom of milk cartons. Students who pick a milk with a sticker win a prize for choosing milk.
- Create a bulletin board showcasing the farm and calf photos and information.
- Use magnets to hang photos on metal surfaces.
- Make announcements during lunch time about the calf, especially when updates have come out.
- Stream updates on digital menu boards, TVs or projectors.
- Share health facts about dairy that connect the calf to students' nutrition and diet.
- Feature new dairy creations on the lunch menu.

“I put up pictures of Teddy every time I got an update. The kids at my school would ask me about her almost every day. It gives me a chance to talk about the health benefits of dairy. Plus, the students loved seeing the pictures.”
– Mandy, nutrition director”
